WATERPOLLO WINS GAME

GET KIDNAPPED

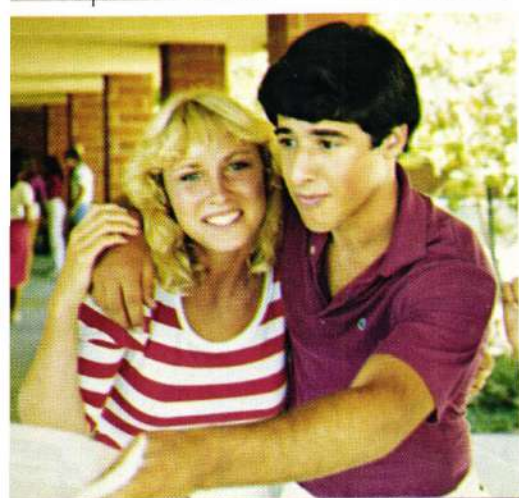

Games are scenes we enact to attain our goal while playing from an unspoken and unwritten script. They are "little dramas" to add zest to the mundane. Some may see school as a procedure, pastime or ritual, but if it's seen as a series of games, it suddenly has conflicts, drama, and growth, and daily life takes on a distinctly exciting quality. Each plays for his own reason; some words describing motivation are amusement, gain, competition, opposition, maximizing, minimizing, play and spirit.

Effective decision-making is essential in games; at every "move" the player must make decisions to face the unknown and upcoming properly.

We all play simple, around-campus games like excuses for homework or tardies. How many hundreds of times has a student presented his teacher with "It went down the garbage disposal", "The dog ate it", "I was absent, don't you remember?", or "It's in my mom's car — and she's in Phoenix." The list for tardies is lengthy too: "My locker didn't open", "I was talking to Mr. Letcher, and he didn't give me a note", "My car wouldn't start", or "The attendance office lines went halfway around the building." Teachers are not immune either; if a teacher didn't have a test ready he could say, "The Xerox broke down" rather than what really happened. Or say a student asked for the definition of the word "myriad" and his teacher didn't know it; the teacher could answer "Let me give you the exact definition" instead of admitting to not knowing it.

The game of territoriality is one that is very clear. Everyone has their own seat; there is a definite difference between the people who make their "home" at the TAB courtyard, the rail by the lawn, the traffic circle, or the rail adjacent to the library. It's hard to imagine the paths of these groups crossing. Territoriality gives people identities; it helps them to uphold images, which is a different game in itself. Age old images of the brain, jock, surfer, and more trendy ones like the preppy or the punk each have a unique way of talking, dressing and acting. People find which is most comfortable for them and surround themselves with people of similar interests.

Games of transience and change are very evident in Southern California; they're seen and experienced by many. In our ever-changing surroundings we try to stay abreast of the latest clichés, clothes, and fads. To show our peers and ourselves we're up on the new styles we'll say "shine" or "blow it off"; we'll wear clothes like mini-skirts, head bands, button-down and Polo shirts, leg warmers, bermudas and knickers, and participate in the latest fads around the school like "hacking," or the musical fads which saw the "punk" image bury disco once and for all. Lawn sitting was as popular as ever. These games of transience are probably best summed up by disc jockey Michael Jackson who said, "Every month in Los Angeles there's a new religion." At Miraleste this year it seemed like every month there was a new club.

Prince Charles and Lady Diana Spencer were married at St. Paul's Cathedral in London on the 29th.

STATE

The Mediterranean fruit fly, or medfly, multiplied to immense numbers in July; the problem could be most directly related to California Governor Edmund Brown's inert reactions to the problem. In December, 1980, tree stripping and ground spraying started in the Santa Clara Valley, and in the spring of 1981 the problem was thought to be under control. Sterile fruit flies were released for control, but later it was determined by the project director Jerry Scribner that they weren't totally sterile and actually contributed to the problem. Scribner and state authorities told local representatives that aerial spraying was to start on the 13th in Santa Clara County. Then governor "moombeam" rejected aerial spraying and ordered massive tree-stripping and ground spraying. The federal government stepped in, recognizing the idiocy of this plan and threatened a total quarantine of California

President Reagan doodles to show his emotion over the passage of his tax-cut.

WORLD

Riots erupted in England's industrial areas, resulting in burning and looting that was Britain's worst civil disorder in a century. The battles plotted racist "skinheads" against Indians and Pakistanis, have riots against the police. Causes of the riots were bigotry, poverty, boredom, and anger over rising unemployment and Prime Minister Margaret Thatcher's conservative policies.

Leaders from the Western World met in Ottawa for a summit to discuss their policies to make their countries stronger through more stable economies.

In a fairy tale come true, 32 year-old Prince Charles, heir to the British throne, was married to Lady Diana Spencer at St. Paul's Cathedral in London. The world-wide television audience was estimated at 750 million, but for most on the west coast, the T.V. replay was sufficient since the ceremony aired live here at 2 A.M.

NATION

Fifty years of government growth in America ended with the House passing Ronald Reagan's tax-cuts 238-195. The Democratic controlled House was persuaded to Reagan's plan by repeated calls and messages from people in their districts and the president himself. They were slated to begin on October 1.

Sandra Day O'Connor became the first woman appointed to the Supreme Court; she was promoted from the Arizona State Court of Appeals. Congress spent the two months deliberating her position. In the Supreme Court's 191 year history, 101 judges have served, and all have been men produce. Brown ordered the spraying and spent the night in the spray zone keeping the interests of the people at heart. The following day, Brown asked the president to declare an emergency in three counties where the problem was "beyond the control of state and local agencies." They didn't declare it, but instead pointed out that if small-scale spraying had been done earlier, billions of dollars in damaged crops, malathion, and labor hours would have been saved.

Signs like this one predominated Northern California this past summer.

SPORTS

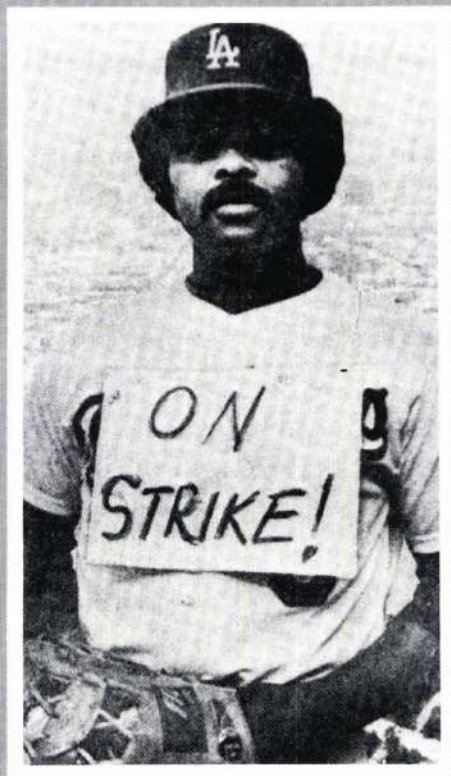

For sports fans, July was a long month. With baseball players on strike, negotiators Marvin Miller, Ray Grebey, and mediator Kenneth Moffitt became the boys of summer. The strike was fifty days old when settled on the 31st, forcing the cancellation of 713 games. The issue was that owners wanted compensation for free agents leaving their teams. Owners finally agreed to an earlier proposal of teams signing a free agent could protect 26 players, and the player's old team could choose among the remainders as compensation.

Wimbledon was an American sweep; Chris Evert defeated Hanna Mandlikova, and John McEnroe finally beat Bjorn Borg after Borg's five straight victories at the British tournament.

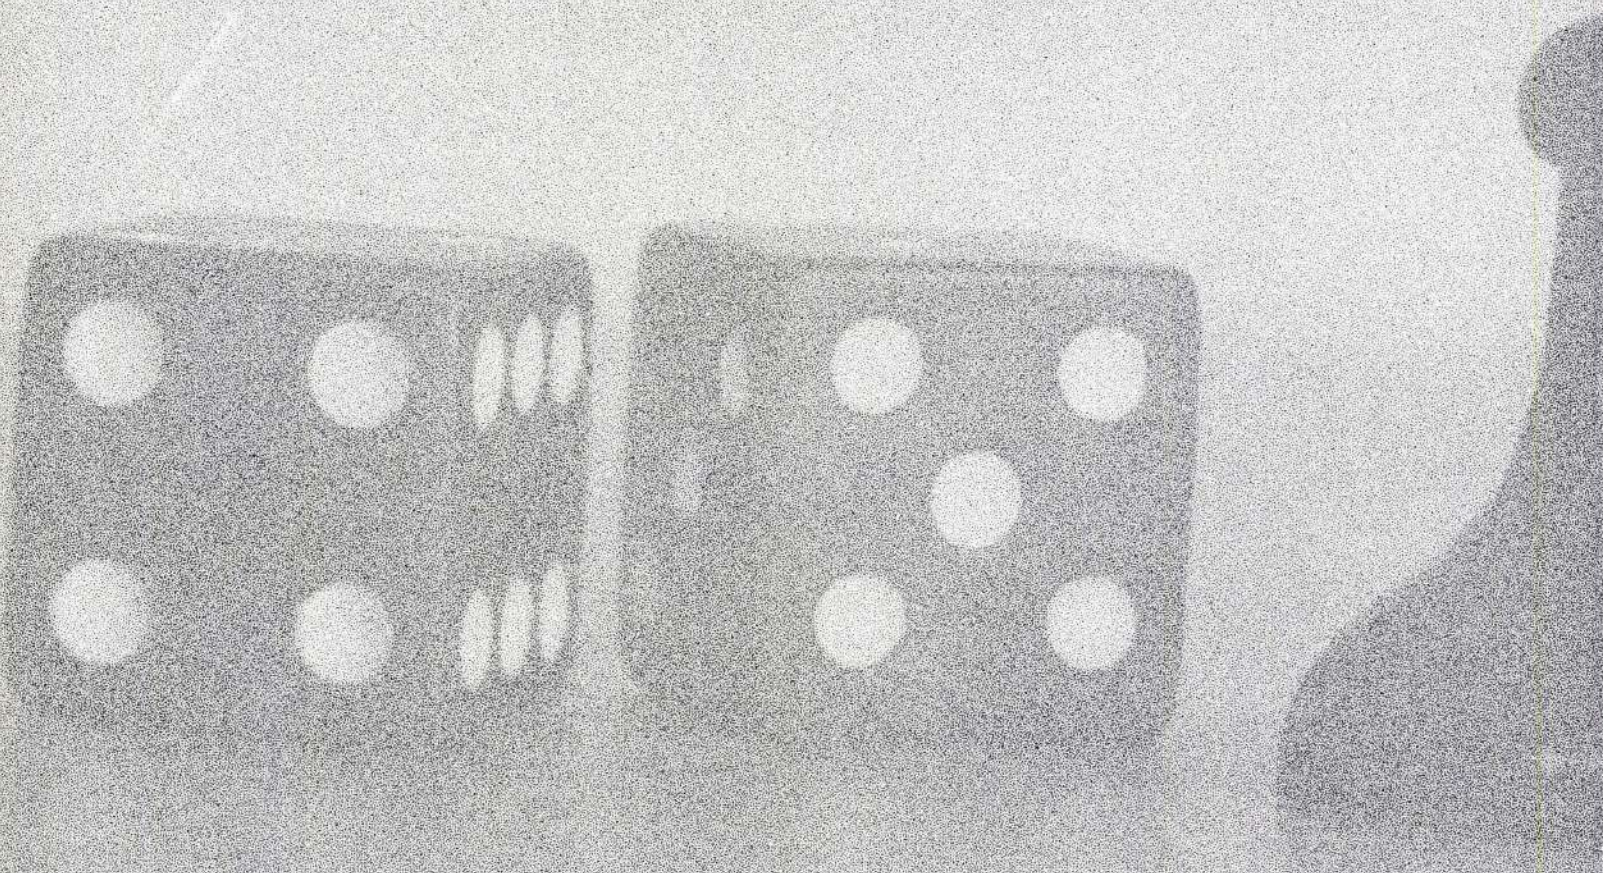

ENTERTAINMENT

The summer of 1981 will not be remembered for a bumper crop of good films. Some favorites included James Bond's latest, "For Your Eyes Only" for which Rodger Moore received $3 million. "Raider's Of The Lost Ark" was two hours packed with every action stunt imaginable. In "Tarzan the Ape Man" any last rumors of Bo Derek's ability to act were smothered.

Tour groups in Southern California included Joe Jackson, .38 Special, Pat Travers, and Manhattan Transfer.

(Above) Although Reggie Smith was only posing for the picture as a joke, owners found the strike no laughing matter after 50 days. "Tarzan the Ape Man" was another in a series of disappointing summer movies.

Class Competition, held every other Friday, was a great success in promoting class unity and spirit. Each class was awarded points according to the way they placed in each event. Some of the events this year were bat twirling, lap sitting, lifesaver pass, and the balloon toss. At the end of the year the points are added up, and the class with the most points received the "Class of the year trophy."

The annual homes tour, sponsored by the MHS PTSA was a smashing success. Sandy Pierry, sixth vice-president in charge of Ways and Means, organized the entire homes tour this year.

The homes used were the Maciej's, the McCampbell's, the Cigliano's, and the Ormsby's. All four service clubs, Key Club, Girl's League, Interact, and Girl's Service took part in helping to do last minute organization at the homes. Key Club and Interact helped in parking cars, and shuttled people to and from the homes. Girl's League and Girl's Service helped in serving the lunch of chicken tetrazini, salad, fruitcup, and cheese cake.

The tickets were sold at a $12 price, which helped to gain an immense amount of money for the PTSA. The tour lasted from 9 in the morning until 3 in the afternoon, and was one of the major highlights of this year's activities.

Marauders arrive at the dances, fashionably late of course, and then the fun begins. The Pogo, Slamming, and Skanking are a few of the more popular dance steps. The dances are always the happening place to be. Inevitably, Marauders always leave a dance happier than when they came.

City Lights, Jynx, and the Twisters were some of the bands that played at the dances this year. All in all, the dances were a great success, and memories of them won't soon be forgotten.

The Soph Doll/Guy Dance was held on February 26th. It's the annual event to acknowledge the sophomore guy and girl voted on by class members. This year the sophomore class tried something new and exciting — they asked everyone to dress in Hawaiian flavor. Nicole Trutanich and Jim Mahoney were this year's winners.

The senior class sponsored Sweetheart Dance was the first dance which the school set down strict regulations on the dances. A new curfew of 9 P.M. was in effect, and off-campus guests needed to secure a guest pass before entering. Thus, the dance wasn't as full as the Soph-Doll Dance, two weeks earlier. Those in attendance enjoyed the music of "Front Seat" thoroughly. Sweetheart winners were freshmen — Erwin Bucy and Jerianne Cobb; sophomores — Craig Johnson and Susan Feyk; juniors — Jay Mayer and Elise Hanley; and seniors — Mitch Bennett and Elizabeth O'Hare.

1 Following the new tradition, the Girls' League Winter Formal was once again held in the gym. However, there was quite an improvement in both the interior and exterior decorations. Upon arriving, Marauders were greeted by a valet parking service which added to the ambiance.

In order to cut down on the price of the bids, which was $18, dinner was not served. Some Marauders enjoyed dining at Bobby McGee's, Beachbum Burt's, The Bonaventure, or Benihana's. These popular restaurants were referred to as the 4B's.

The main complaint for those who attended the affair was that the band was disco-oriented. But overall the evening was a success.

For some the Winter Formal festivities proved to be quite lengthy. There were pre-parties to attend that began as early as 4:00 p.m. and breakfast get-togethers which lasted as late as 3:00 a.m.

Spirit Week Sparks

Spirit Week began with a barbeque on Monday, which was followed by Hillbilly Day, Hawaiian Day, Funky Fads Day, and Button Day. On Tuesday and Thursday, the A.S.B. gave out free ice cream cones to all students. On Thursday, the annual Interact vs. Key Club and Girl's Service Club vs. Girl's League waterpolo games were fought, with victories going to Girl's Service and Key Club. The Homecoming theme was "The Four Seasons", and the Seniors took first place in the float competition. The highlight of Spirit Week was Miraleste's Homecoming victory over Lennox High.

Fun For All Four

The thrashing 33-0 homecoming victory over Lennox High was the climax of a spirit-filled week. The day began with an assembly in which the homecoming court was announced. The court consisted of Caroline Dunn, Melanie MacLeod, Lisa Mangiamelli, Soni Ormsby, and Suzy Torres for the queen nominees, and king nominees Adam Finney, Craig Halverson, Mike Personius, Nathan Schick, and Steve Vargas.

During the MHS clap competition, the Juniors triumphed over the other classes. The Seniors took first place in both the penny collecting competition and the basketball shooting. Many alumni returned to cheer their alma mater, and renew past friendships. The Homecoming theme was "Four Seasons." The Seniors hoedown float featuring a square dance with some autumn characters was awarded first place, the Sophomore old-fashioned summer float was awarded second place followed in third place by the Freshmen's winter dance float. The Juniors took fourth for their spring-time graveyard.

During half-time, after all the floats had rounded the track, Lisa Mangiamelli was crowned Homecoming Queen. Finally, at the dance featuring the Twisters, Craig Halverson was declared the 1981-1982 Homecoming King.

During the first weekends in December, the Miraleste Theatre Arts Department performed the melodrama, "Dirty Work at the Crossroads." Director Mark Ferrera and assistant directors Tim Didlake and Kathy Towner did an outstanding job in helping to make the play a success. The play was full of cheering, hissing, and booing, and of course, the excitement which a melodrama creates. It made the atmosphere enjoyable for the audience.

Those damn Yankees, those powerful Yankees, those victorious Senators. That is what the MHS spring musical "Damn Yankees" was all about. A real estate agent, Joe Boyd, is a die-hard Washington fan, who sells his soul to the devil in return for one long ball hitter, Joe Hardy. The musical comedy is a ligh-hearted, quick paced fantasy story, which seemed ideally situated and almost explicitly written for MHS. Director Mark Ferrera said of the show, "It's dynamite! We had a group of kids who really wanted to work, and as a result the show was a great combination of singing, orchestration, dancing, and acting." All Miraleste should be proud of this all-school effort; it's something many other schools will envy for years to come.

TRAVEL

During the '81 Easter Vacation, 32 MHS students accompanied by Mrs. Roberta Kordich, traveled to the East Coast. In Virginia, they saw Mt. Vernon, Monticello, Jamestown, Richmond, Arlington, and dined at the famous Miche Tavern. In Washington they toured the White House, Capitol Building, Smithsonian and saw a play at the Kennedy Cultural Center. On the road Gettysburg, Philadelphia, where Independence Hall and the Liberty Bell were slated for viewing, and dining was at Bookbinder's. Go East & Overseas

"Europe in Ten Days" was the theme of the group of students who went there in the spring of '81. They landed in Germany, adjusted to the time change and quickly went sight-seeing there and in Switzerland. A leisurely day was spent shopping in Lucerne. Off to Southern France and Paris followed. After crossing the English channel, the group spent the final five days in and around London. The cold English weather spoiled an Easter picnic, but the English pubs made up for that, and the trip was a good introduction for those involved.

The Pep Squad started their spirited year last summer by attending a USA Camp at Santa Barbara. Each squad returned with many awards for superiority and excellence; both the Varsity Cheerleaders and Songleaders received trophies for evaluations on camp-taught routines.

The entire group kept very busy and showed their spirit by cheering at numerous sporting events. They sent candy, bought cookies, kidnapped certain teams for breakfasts, T.P.ed (and cleaned up) the school, dressed up as ghosts for halloween, participated in spirit week and generally worked their hardest to promote spirit.

The sports seasons were especially excellent throughout this year with many teams qualifying for C.I.F. That made the pep squad's year more memorable.

The Miraleste Band and Banner Squad entertained the school during assemblies and many sports events. They presented creative routines during halftime and boosted school spirit at games as well. The Band and Banner Squad also won many awards for their participation in local parades.

Quite an improvement could be seen in the 81-82 drill team. There was an increase in the number of members. It was caused by increased participation of freshmen and sophomores.

The squad was under the leadership of advisor Chris Poe and captain Belinda Torres. With Belinda's outstanding leadership ability, many felt that this year's drill team was the most successful ever. The routines had more contemporary and upbeat looks. Co-captains Margie Marinelli and Cindy Suggett also contributed to the squad's success.

The squad was especially successful in parade competitions. The members placed first in the Glendale parade and second in the San Pedro, Camarillo, and Artesia parades.

This year's chorus was once again under the direction of Connie McIntyre. She is enthusiastically doing more for the group. Members participated in combined concerts with Rolling Hills High School, choral festivals, intermediate school recruiting, Christmas caroling, and various fund raisers.

Outstanding performers of the group were seniors Theresa Schnerk, Cindy Foster and freshman Dan Wells.

EXECUTIVE COUNCIL MAKES IT HAPPEN

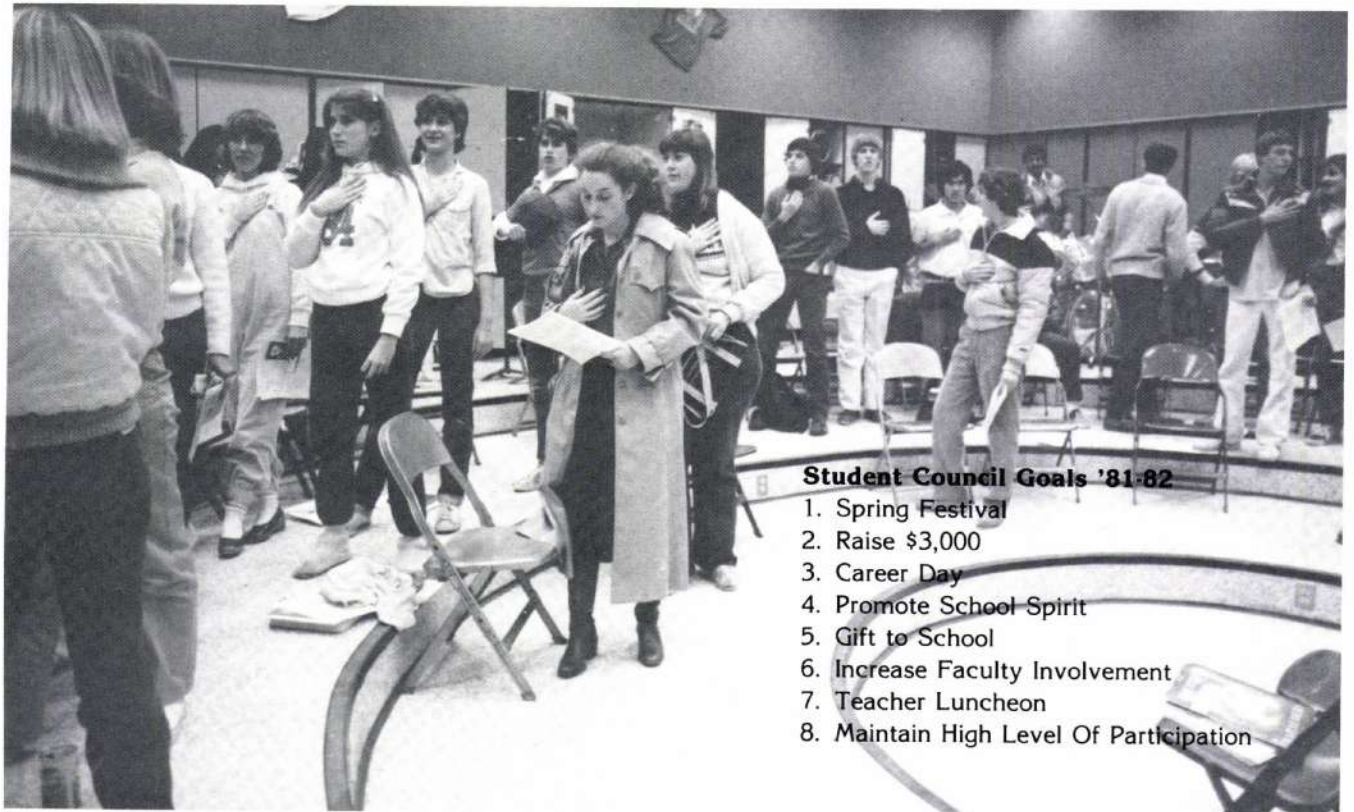

Upon completion of another year of student government, it's nice to recall the memories of the many activities and accomplishments of student council. Of course, there are misgivings about the things we should have done, or the things we might have done better, but we realize that we have grown through our failures as well as our successes.

Student government is a vital part of high school life, and M.H.S. is no exception. I can't imagine what the past year would have been like without the great activities that were organized, publicized, and carried out by the student council.

I thank my predecessors for establishing a fine Student Council program and I encourage all students to become involved in leadership. It's lots of fun, lots of friendships, and lots of memories. I am glad to have had the opportunity to enrich my high school life through participation in Student Government.

LEADERSHIP LEADS OFF AT O-ONGO

More than 140 Marauders travelled to Running Springs for three days during the week before school started. The 2½ day marathon included everything from speeches by the PTSA, administration, and school representatives; the finalizing of the homecoming theme (Four Seasons); seminars on budget, publications, student rights, and ideas for spirit.

Afternoon events included tennis, horseback riding, ping-pong, swimming, nation ball, tree swinging, and listening to "Super Freak" by Rick James, which became an unofficial leadership camp theme song.

The first night, Marauders screamed to the terrifying "Tales of the Crypt". On the second night, shrieks of joy were heard from the lucky winners of bingo and shrieks of anger from those whose cabins had been raided.

In a critical economic decision, President Reagan elected to cut his original defense budget in an effort to balance the national budget. He did agree to begin building the controversial MX missile, but on a scaled down budget.

The second flight of the space shuttle was delayed from its original September 30th date. When gas leaked during tests one day, several of the protective-heat chips were destroyed, pushing the date back.

260,000 people paraded throughout Washington, D.C., protesting the President's economic policy. It was one of the largest political demonstrations in the history of the United States and it did prompt a television speech, but no policy was changed.

Over 1500 people were arrested in protests over licensing the nuclear power plant at Diablo Canyon, just outside San Luis Obispo. The protestors claim the reactor was built too close to an earthquake fault; however, the Nuclear Regulatory Commission felt otherwise, and the license was granted. Among those arrested were actor Robert Blake and singer Jackson Browne.

Only one new county was subjected to Medfly spraying — Contra-Costa. Experts anticipated the fly to be extinct in California by the end of the summer of 1982. September's Medfly problem was compounded by the unwillingness of the Japanese to

The Dodgers coasted to a .500 finish and fourth place in the National League West division for the second half. One high point was Fernando Valenzuela's rookie-record: eight shutouts in a season which was 59 games shorter than the other record-holders. Also, Houston pitching ace Nolan Ryan threw his record fifth no-hitter. It was against the Dodgers.

After starting the season at 0-2, the Rams signed former Oakland quarterback Dan Pastorini, creating yet another L.A. quarterback controversy. After the signing, starting quarterback Pat Haden led the Rams to 2-2. Longtime Rams defensive end Fred Dryer was cut despite a no-cut clause in his contract. He returned after Coach Ray Malavasi learned of the clause, but was cut for good later in the month.

John McEnroe won his third straight U.S. Open men's title in New York, while local favorite Tracy Austin took her second woman's title.

AROUND CAMPUS/LOCAL

Registration day on the 8th started the school year, and schedules were delayed due to a computer breakdown. On the morning of the 9th, 140 students boarded buses for Running Springs and Leadership Camp '81. On the Friday they returned, the varsity football squad had its first game — a 27-7 romp at Mira Costa.

Classes started on the 15th as students discovered that twelve minutes had been added to the school day (two minutes extra per class) to comply with state requirements.

New faces in the teaching staff were Dennis Frost, Mona Tasaki, Marcia Ash, Bill Skilling, Gary Kurdyla, Enie Whitney, "supersub" Elsa Celniker (now full time), and the return of John Hunt.

On the Friday of the first week, varsity football played one of the more exciting games of the year; Tom Tournat connected on a field goal in the final seconds to send Aviation down to a 16-14 defeat. Later that night, "The Kids are Alright", featuring The Who, was shown to a nearly full house in the TAB.

The hassles of schedule changes characterized the second week. Friday's activities included the welcome-back assembly with various speakers and two masked seniors, later identified as Mike Personius and Adam Finney, who marauded through the gym, throwing confetti on the freshmen. That afternoon, varsity football lost 28-15 to South High. City Lights played the welcome-back dance before a large crowd. ASB profits for it were nearly 800 dollars.

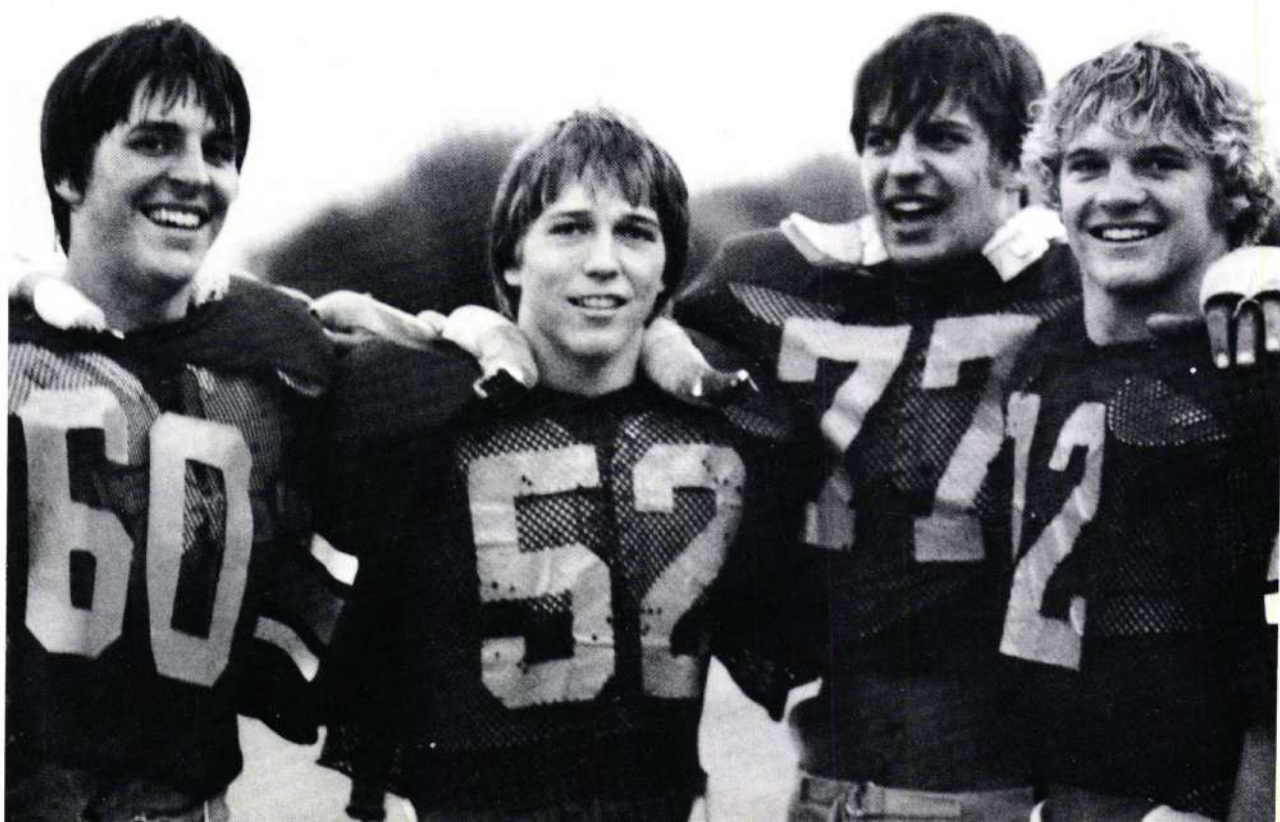

Two local events were the RHE 24th birthday party carnival and the Portuguese Bend National Horse Show at the Empty Saddle Club.

As I reflect on the last four years, it seems like only yesterday when we arrived at Miraleste. During that first year we began to reach out to new people, establishing some of the closest friendships people may share. It was also that year when we had to stand tall, being the butt of most high school jokes; I remember hearing "typical freshman" while walking through the halls, but those comments never stopped us from growing to become the best class at Miraleste. In the fall of 1979, after our first year, we wisened up and learned which administrators to stay away from, which classes not to take, and what activities, clubs, or sports we wanted to seriously get involved in. As sophomores, we dreamed impossible dreams and set impossible goals for our last two years, and now we can all say together that we made it — and did it as a class. We have left behind an imprint which hopefully will continue to touch the lives of those with whom we were fortunate enough to come into contact.

Our abilities weren't limited to a specific area. We produced winning athletes in all sports; our players stood above the rest — they gave 100% of themselves 100% of the time. It paid off with consistent winning teams, and even one which achieved a national championship (tennis).

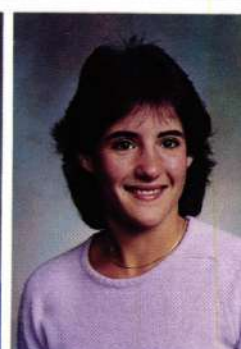

Our ability to exhibit effective and new leadership proved that the Class of '82 were "doers" and not "lookers". During our senior year, we've reached the peak of our leadership, effectively executing the major offices in the four service clubs and student council. We owe much of our success to the administration, especially Mr. Letcher (Dean of Student Activities), whose dedication and support has benefitted everyone of us in some certain way. In academics, we excelled further. When a 3.3 GPA is ranked past 90th in a class of 367, the competition is obviously fierce. Our diversity is evident through these outstanding accomplishments; in some people's eyes we became the epitome of a perfectly well-rounded class.

At the same time of applying diligently towards our school studies, we also found time to have fun. Remember the days of powder puff when the worst enemy was the other team, and our best friends were fire-extinguishers and water balloons? We grew up to really mature class competition events like Pin-the-Tail-On-The-Marauder and The Scrambled Shoe Find. These events always made Friday lunches worth looking forward to. As sophomores we brought back a first place trophy in the first annual Class of the Year competition (1979-1980). Now our stay at Miraleste has come to an end; we have enjoyed our senior events like ditch day and Baccalaureate. We're anxious for those still to come: The swim party, slide show, and graduation.

I hope your memories are as special and plentiful as mine. We have grown up together, experienced good times as well as bad, happy times as well as sad, and victory as well as defeat. To me you have all been a symbol of hope when all hope seemed lost, an inspiration to carry on when no one else was capable. But most importantly, you've been a symbol of unity and love which no one or thing could destroy. I wish you all the best because you are the best . . .

What advantages are

Tracy Stauts: "All the teachers and administrators know you. You can't forget your locker combo — you've had it four years! All the underclassmen think you're special."

Dave Mucha: "You're the top dog — You're #1."

Kristen Farrell: "I haven't found out yet."

Matthew Frooman: "It seems that I know many more of the students here and after 3+ years, the class becomes more of a family."

Chris Nolan: "Less school, get more homework, better teachers, more liberal classes."

Jorge Lozano: "Getting ready for college and get an idea of what college is going to be. Also, we have fewer classes which allows us to do some other things."

Brian Donnelly: "You can just walk through the crowds of freshmen in the halls, and they part like the Red Sea."

Cordee Rehrig: "I know I'm getting out of here soon!"

Lisa Weiss: "You don't have to put your name on your lunch bag."

Beth White: "Becoming 18! Own notes, barely any classes, hardly ever having to be on campus."

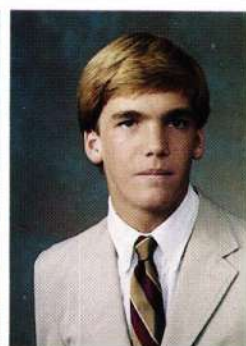

Annette Dahlman: "More freedom, less classes. Knowing all the short cuts, more activities."

Kitt Copeland: "All of the seniors (or most), realize it's their last year and seem to be a lot nicer."

Cathy Bald: "You look down on people instead of up to them."

Kevin Allison: "We get to sit back and look at the Freshmen and wonder if they will ever reach the height of 5 feet."

Laura Orosz: "All the younger people look up to you. We are supposed to set an example, but sometimes I wonder what for."

HOW MUCH ALLOWANCE DO YOU GET?

Paul Falkenstein: A dollar a night for going to bed.
 Brad Spaun: Only about $4,000 or $6,000 a day, we're a poor family.
 Brian Karmelich: $.10 every other leap year.
 Jim Hudson: A new car and $57 each week.
 Lisa Mastandrea: $500 a month.
 Patricia Link: $2,000 every 5 months.
 Annie Smith: 5 bucks and that's it!
 Brian Sherman: I get no allowance at all.
 Suzie Rodich: $7.00 a week.

Erwin Bucy: $10 a month sometimes.
 Michael Ran: $1.00.
 Clay Kirby: Five Dollars.
 Andy Spilberg: $8-$10 a week.
 Marisa Nardone: $21.
 Tom Mahoney: $1.50.
 Erin Farrell: $4.00.
 Amy Dahlman: $3.50.
 Jerriann Cobb: I don't get a set allowance; I get money whenever I need it.

WORLD

Early on the morning of the 6th, news reached the United States of the assassination of Egyptian President Anwar Sadat. He and seven others were gunned down while watching a military parade in Cairo. As the first Mid-East leader to seek peace with Israel in the seventies, he was considered a traitor by most of the other Arab nations. Millions joined his funeral while the new leaders pledged to follow his path.

Labor unrest continued in Poland, with strikes constantly being called forcing factories to shut down. The independent labor union Solidarity, led by Lech Walsea, foresaw major unrest coming in the months ahead. Working conditions were not improving and salaries didn't keep up with food prices which were tripling annu-

NATION

It was round two for Reagan and his massive victories in Congress. Three months after passing his tax cut, Congress O.K.'ed the 8.5 billion dollar sale of AWACS radar planes to Saudi Arabia. The move represented the largest sale of military equipment in the country's history, and Reagan "won" by employing many of the same tactics he used last summer. At the same time, he further reduced the MX missile program due to budget problems.

On a lighter note, French president Francis Mitterrand and President Reagan gathered in Yorktown to celebrate the 200 year anniversary of the final battle of the Revolutionary War.

NATION

Good news came at the beginning of the month from the city council, which had secured the final sponsor for the 1984 Olympic facilities. As a result, no taxpayers' dollars would have to be spent on the event. However, another word came three weeks later saying that probably wouldn't be the case with security costs expected to at least double in the next three years.

SPORTS

The Dodgers won the World Championship, bringing the trophy back to L.A. for the first time since 1965. The team won three come-from-behind series victories in the post-season play. Down 2-0 to Houston, they rallied and swept the weekend games here. Then, against Montreal they fell behind 2-1 and again rallied to win the National League pennant on Rick Minday's solo home run in the ninth inning of game five. But the sweetest victory for L.A. fans was against the New York Yankees, whom they had lost to in '77 and '78. Again down 2-0, the team rallied and swept an exciting weekend series at Dodger Stadium. The champagne flowed with their 9-2 victory in New York on Tuesday the 28th. Yankee owner George Stienbrenner couldn't boast enough when up 2-0, but was so frustrated after the weekend in L.A. that he broke his hand in a fight he provoked in his hotel here. On Friday the 30th, 80,000 people jammed along a downtown parade route and in front of city hall where players gave speeches. Later, Fernando Valenzuela, the local hero, was awarded Rookie of the Year (the third year in a row a Dodger has won) and the National League Cy Young Award. He was the youngest player at 22 to receive it, and the first rookie ever to win it.

Hockey started with new divisions realigned by geography to cut down on travel. The Kings fell to fourth place.

The Rams climbed to their customary position atop the NFC West before again falling to 500 behind Pat Haden.

ENTERTAINMENT

95,000 fans packed the Coliseum for two days to see Mick Jagger and the Rolling Stones deliver their best U.S. tour in years. The group filled stadiums throughout the country, and Jagger was given excellent reviews for bringing the Rolling Stones back to the top of rock for the third decade in a row.

The reunion of Simon and Garfunkle drew an estimated 500,000 people in New York's Central Park.

Other groups appearing in Los Angeles included Pat Benetar and the Go Go's. At the top of the pop charts were the Stones' "Start Me Up," "Arthur's Theme" from Christopher Cross, and the Little River Band with "Night Owls."

AROUND CAMPUS

Fall sports, football, waterpolo, cross country, tennis, volleyball, were now in full swing. Friday activities included the following away football games: a last minute loss at Duarte, a last minute hold on victory at Bishop Montgomery, and league victories over El Segundo and rival Redondo. The junior class sponsored the halloween dance on the 23rd with music from Jynx. On Halloween, Key Club in association with the other service clubs put on a costume party at the Cobb's house. The event was well attended.

The band and drill team were in a televised parade in Glendale, and received the first place award. The boys tennis team was also recognized for its national championship last spring with a write-up in the October edition of Los Angeles magazine. Both the school and the players, in addition to the Coach, Clagg Offutt, were all featured in the article.

ADMINISTRATIONADMINISTRAT

At some point in the future when you reflect upon your experiences at Miraleste, I hope you will look on the 1981-82 school year with fond memories. Certainly this yearbook provides you with a visual record of the activities and people who were an important part of the year. It is intangible, however, that may have the greatest impact on you.

No photograph can record the enthusiasm in a spirited class discussion, the excitement of a new learning experience, or the emotional drain following an exciting win in C.I.F. competition. The happiness you shared with friends or even the disappointment that may have resulted from an unhappy experience contributed to your growth as a person. These are part of the unique aspects of high school life. In the final analysis you probably benefitted from experiences in direct ratio to the extent you allowed yourself to become involved.

The class of '82 had individuals who got involved. They provided outstanding leadership throughout the school year beginning even before school started with a successful Leadership Camp. To the members of that class, I urge you to continue your commitment to excellence. Accept the challenges that face you, and approach them with the same spirit of problem resolution you exhibited as leaders at MHS. We expect much from you . . .

Up, Up, and away the space shuttle emerges from a white cloud of smoke 7 seconds after takeoff.

WORLD

Word of Princess Diana's pregnancy and expected June delivery came from Buckingham Palace on the fifth. Britons held their breath as its royal family awaited a new generation.

NATION

The second flight of the space shuttle finally became a reality on the 14th. Behind pilots Joe Engle and Richard Truly the craft returned to earth two days early due to technical problems. The flight was the first time in which the same craft has returned to space, and launching jets have been used more than once. It landed at Edwards Air Force Base in San Bernardino County where an estimated 250,000 watched the touch down.

Americans woke up on the first of the month to find postage stamp prices raised for the second time in six months. Only 15 cents at the beginning of 81, they were upped to 18 cents in March and 20 cents in November.

Hollywood lost three respected actors: William Holden (Network) died after falling on the corner of a table while drunk; Jack Albertson (Chico and the Man) passed away from old age at 78; In a bizarre boating accident off Catalina, Natalie Wood (Miracle on 34th Street) drowned while swimming back to her yacht.

SPORTS

Laker star Magic Johnson, signed to a 25 year, $25 million contract last summer expressed his discontent with head coach Paul Westhead, and Westhead was fired.

Pat Riley was named the new coach, and Magic's nickname became "tragic Johnson." After the firing however, the Lakers went 11-1 after a 1-4 start.

The Rams faltered behind three quarterbacks and fell below .500, to third place in the NFC West. The surprise teams of the pro football season were emerging as San Francisco, Cincinnati, and the New York Jets.

ENTERTAINMENT

Making Southland appearances were Journey, U2, Blackfoot, Def Leppard, Billy Squier, and the Tubes. November's hit songs included The Police's "Every Little Thing She Does is Magic", "Waiting for a Girl Like You", by Foreigner, "Physical" by Olivia Newton John, and Stevie Nicks' "The Edge of Seventeen." The movie worth mentioning was Meryl Streep in "The French Lieutenant's Woman."

first. Almost 85% rented on opening, the mall had been long awaited and opened up many new jobs for students. A first impression for many was problems with acoustics, as the ice rink gave the atmosphere of a gymnasium.

League play for fall sports concluded with water polo, football, and girls' tennis all qualifying for CIF competition. Water polo was eliminated in the first round, but Girls Tennis advanced to 4-A semi-finals before losing to Santa Barbara. Varsity football won the Pioneer League on Homecoming Day, and then defeated Bloomington and Notre Dame of Riverside in the first two rounds of C.I.F. competition.

The first week included the powderpuff game which followed the weeklong festivities leading up to it. That Friday's activity was the annual sophomore-class-sponsored hypnotist show. Homecoming week followed with different dress up days, free ice cream, and Wednesday off! On the Saturday of the following week selected members of the Pep Squad and football team were featured in a fashion show at the new May Company in the Courtyard. That night Key Club and Girls' League had a joint progressive dinner.

Led by Pioneer League Offensive Player of the Year, Chris Ridout and Defensive Player of the Year Craig Halverson, the Marauder Varsity Football team again reigned as champions of the league. South Bay Daily Breeze's Coach of the Year Gary Kimbrell was indeed proud of his team which compiled a 9-4 record including three C.I.F. victories. The team's record was unsurpassed in the school's history. Winning the now smaller Pioneer League wasn't too much trouble for the team despite an upset loss to Harvard, it rose to the occasion to defeat rival Redondo. First round C.I.F. was played at Mira Costa against the Blue Devils from Bloomington. The Marauders took charge and won easily. Next round was off to U.C. Riverside where the team disposed of Notre Dame of Riverside on a rainy evening. Triumph was again on the gridder's minds as they returned to Mira Costa to face the perennial champions from Atascadero. The Greyhounds had a long bus ride home after being defeated 17-7. The team had run all the way to the C.I.F. finals to meet a strong team from Verbum Dei. Jumping ahead 13-0, MHS slowly faltered in the second half, and lost, finishing a very respectable second place and putting themselves in the school's archives for the longest season ever.

Overall the Sophomores had a very successful season; They compiled a mark of 5-3-1. Hans Schroeder was voted Most Valuable Player. Other outstanding performances were put in by running backs Chris Schotts and Derek Parkes and lineman Scott Sedgewick on offense. On defense, Jim Mahoney, Robert Apparicio and Chris Schotts were standouts. John Roensch and Ray Hoffer played an important role on special teams providing the kickoffs, punts and field goals. Danny Pina led the team with consistent quarterbacking; head coach was Will Fuller.

to C.I.F.

"C.I.F., here we come," were the chants and cheers heard among the crowd as MHS Varsity Water Polo beat Beverly Hills in the final game of the season to capture a spot in the tough C.I.F. 4-A division. After what many called a slow start, the Marauders went on to have an excellent showing in league and win their last seven games in a row before succumbing in the first round of C.I.F. to the perennial 3-A division champs from Esperanza High. The dedication and hard work put in by the poloists this year was accented by their head coach who said, "The amount of work these guys have put in this season has not been equaled by many teams in the time that I've been here. The guys who have played 4 years have put in work matched only by few sport teams." A special commendation should go to these 4-year members — Greg Filler, Adam Finney, and Mike Personius.

It was called a building year by many, but the skeptics were silenced as the building occurred in the first half of the season and the winning in the second. With many new Freshmen on the team, experience was gained while going through tedious workouts with the Varsity, and following the expert guidance of head coach Tim Meenan. The high moral of the team combined with the highly skilled coaching techniques provided a winning atmosphere, a winning team, and a bright light on the horizon for Miraleste Water Polo.

The first time in Miraleste History — Varsity tennis reached the semifinals in C.I.F., losing to Santa Barbara 7-11. Throughout the season, Miraleste won every league match they played, with such competition as, Morningside, Mira Costa, Culver City, and Beverly Hills. They went undefeated with top players Maria La-Franchi, Michelle Dasso, Joan Lennartz, and Colleen Blackmore. Thanks to Coach Offutt and the team, Miraleste is sure to remember this great season.

Junior Varsity did just as well in league. They came out with an 8-5 victory standing, which held the team in second place. The whole team worked as a family, and went to each match with a positive attitude. Excellent play goes to Robin Hollingshead, Kim Weischel, Andrea Rauch, Amy McCain, and Karen Tuttle.

The 1981-82 Marauder Varsity won their second straight Pioneer League championship. Losing four of their first five pre-league games was a low point, but the cagers won 14 of their last 17 games. After their successful league (10-1) play, the Marauders advanced to the CIF play-offs against Duarte. Coach Richard Belcher was very impressed with the performance of his entire team.

Scott MacCabe's overall play led the team in addition to the scoring of David Alesso and Phillip Tucker, the playmaking of Mitch Bennett & the defensive strength of Robert Messih. The rebounding department of Rob Rubin and Jim Martin also highlighted the season.

J.V. Basketball compiled a league mark of 11-1 which qualified them as champions. Their overall record was 16-4. The team was lead by co-captain and M.V.P. Tim Wahl. Ted Yasuda was also a co-captain. Top ball-handlers and play makers were Ted Yasuda and Spencer Krieger. Sophomore Mike Adams proved to be unstoppable in rebounding. The squad is anxious to show off as varsity next year, and owe much of their success as J.V.'s to head coach Jim Small.

The sophomores finished 13-9. They took first place in the Torrance Sophomore Tournament winning their first four games. In the Santa Ana tourney they lost the consolation trophy in overtime. Chris Sherba and Fred Roessler were outstanding shooters, and the strong rebounding of Terry Fresenius and Jon Roensch added strength to the team. Eric Morrison added needed enthusiasm. Frosh Triumphs League

The Marauders Freshmen Basketball team went undefeated in the Pioneer League (8-0), and had a fantastic season record of 19-3.

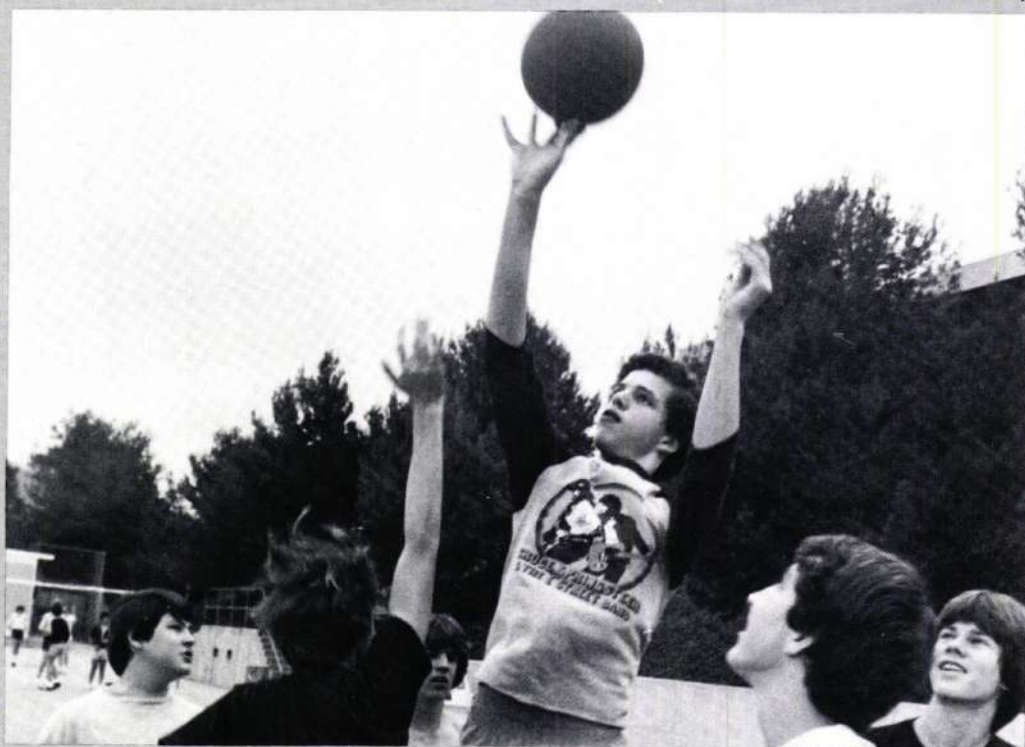

They won the Los Altos Christmas tournament, and were, "King of the Hill," freshmen with two victories over Bay League Champions Palos Verdes, and a win over Rolling Hills.

Pat Shea led the team in scoring, and Wallace Tucker led the franchise in defense. Ron Ferdon, Alex Boudov, Tim Fresenius, and Neal Thompson were the leading rebounders.

Coach Mirsky felt that the Marauders were the strongest Freshmen in the South Bay.

Grapplers Wrestle Well

Wrestling, an old and to some, an almost obsolete sport had an exciting and fun filled year. The grapplers, noted for their senior members, had a season which will be long remembered. Head Coach, Art Warner, commented, "Working with these kids some since they were freshmen really gives me a sense of achievement. I've watched these kids grow, and I know that each of them has given 110%." Seniors Alan Kaplan and Mike Smith showed they knew the sport; while freshman Keith Petersen and sophomore John Bloomingdale learned from their teammates and mentors to help the team complete a successful season. It will forever be implanted in their memories.

Soccer Kicks It In

Varsity Soccer was led by outstanding play by David Thompson, Nathan Schick, Steve Marken, Kurt Schroeder, and Mark Toole. The team finished with a 5-4-1 mark. Coach Henkel remarked, "Although our record to some might indicate otherwise, I felt that with the fierce competition in our league the team should be very proud of its five victories and four very tough losses."

The J.V. team finished the season with a fantastic 8-1-1 record. Amidst the glory of a winning season, two bright stars shown above all others. Steve Hildreth and Richie Wonder were the product of hard work, dedication, and fine coaching talent. As their winning record would indicate, the team was on the top of their league preparing squad for next year's varsity.

The Girls' Soccer Team had a very successful season. Although they didn't reach C.I.F., Coach Maynard was very happy with the teams' performance. Outstanding senior players were Rosanne Weston at the goalie position and Lisa Martin, the center halfback. Others deserving recognition were Debbie English, leading scorer, and Cindy Cutshall, Robin Hollingshead, Tracy Marken, and Darcy Cain. The team finished in fourth place in a league of seven teams.

"This league just keeps getting tougher," said Roy Wilton, coach of the J.V. Girls' Soccer Team that placed fourth in their league. Two of the outstanding players which will be great assets to next year's team were juniors, Amy Small and Arlin Yufalisy. Coach Wilton is anxious about next year.

"We'll go all the way," were the cheers heard as the Varsity Girls' Basketball Team gained a C.I.F. birth in the 2A Division. Unfortunately the team would not go on to become the official champions, but when reminded of the season the team had, it was a commonplace to refer to them as champions. Led by seniors Jackie Mougan and Renee Pina, the team was an inspiration to all that watched, and made fans extremely proud of their school.

The JV Squad faired equally as well. A fantastic 9-1 record tied them for a league championship with Hawthorne High. Shannon McKee and Theressa Villano were team standouts, and Michelle Allred, Tanya Mattull, and Vanessa Maldonado provided strong supporting roles. Coach Will Fuller provided expert guidance and he maintained the thought that MHS Girl's basketball will be a threat for some years to come.

The squeak of tennis shoes on the court, the loud thud of a driving overhand smash, and the lineman yells "game, set, match." Miraleste has won another match on the tennis courts of the Southland. The Southland wasn't the only place they played, though, as they went to North Carolina to capture the National Championship at the end of the last year's season. The players were a tribute to the fine coaching of Clagg Offutt and Alan Vieweg. Picking the #1 player was the most difficult decision the coach faced all season. The honor was divided among Jorge Lazano, #2 in all of Mexico; John Letts, #10 in the 17 & 18 year old U.S. division; and Eric Amend, #1 in the U.S. 16 & under division.

"For it's one, two three, strikes you're out," was the pitching staff's theme song as they led the mighty Marauder baseball team into another season. Coach Tommy Graves remembered about his fireballers, Tom Schotts and Tim Wahl, "These two young men are fine athletes and have been a pleasure to watch perform. The talent this whole team has exhibited is really quite surprising considering the size of this school. It is something every Miraleste student should be proud of." Much of this year's team was made up of underclassmen, but this did not detract from the J.V. team which had a spectacular season. All together, the Marauders have baseball talent which is unsurpassed by many schools around.

- Vicious spikes, rifling overhand serves, and expert defense added up to another victorious season for boys volleyball. Coach Henkel took time to comment, "To say I'm proud of these fellows is an understatement. They are one dedicated group of kids!" Dave Thompson, Craig Halverson, Bruce Friedman, and Todd Mullin were varsity standouts.

The J.V. squad was under the wing of Coach Hunt. He stated briefly that for what his team lacked in height they made up for in effort. Captain Josh LaBelle said, "It has been my honor to lead this group of warriors through a winning season!! Top competitors were Danny O'Brien, Phillip Tucker, Josh LaBelle, and Clark Harris.

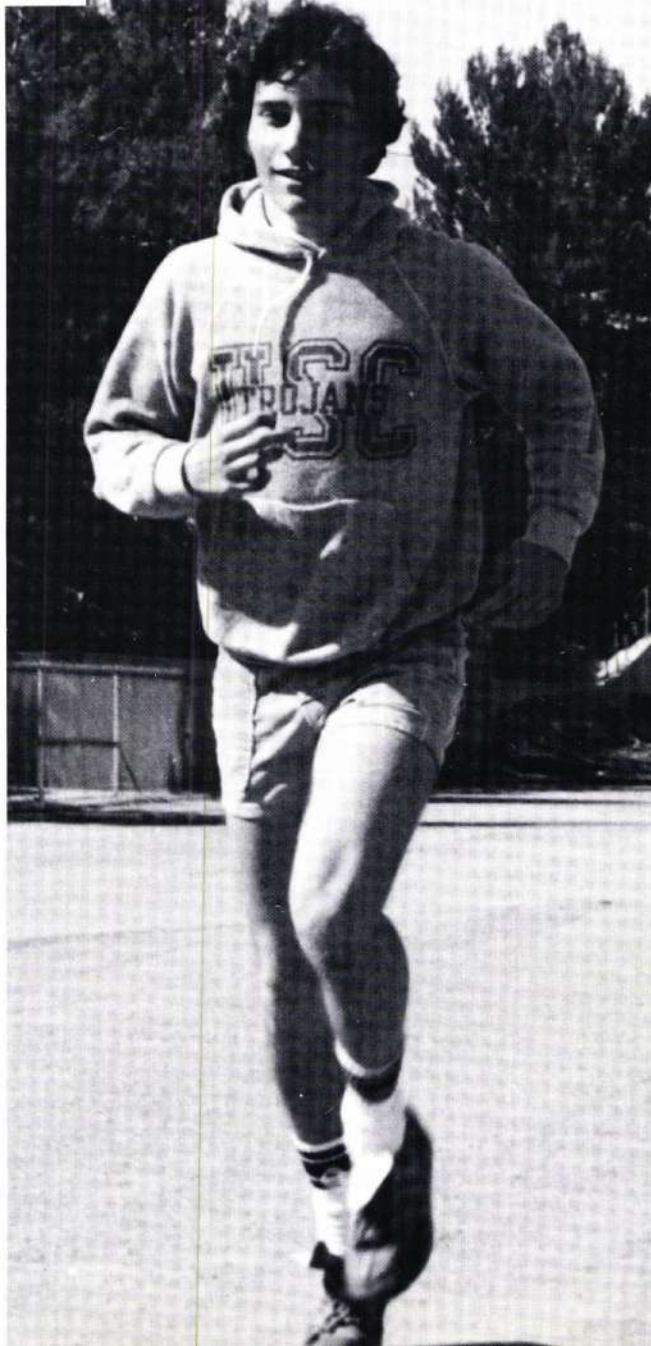

3. The J.V. Team: Row One; C. Johnson, C. Harris, K. Kim, J. LaBelle, T. Dulac, R. Cutshall. Row Two; F. Roessler, P. Tucker, E. Morrison, C. Kirby, T. Fresenius, M. Donatoni, P. Smart, D. Track Runs Away With It

With the sound of a red brick track crackling under their feet, the MHS track teams again set a precedent in their league. Through the years, the team has been tough, but with some hidden olympic aspirations, the team attained a new high standing. Expertly coached by Norman Towers and Bill Maynard, the team was the hit of the South Bay. Congratulations are due to the teams which were an inspiration to all Miraleste.

1. Mark Toole, Dan Wetzel, Dan Gornet, and Kyle Landauer warm up before a meet. 2. Take me out to the ball game, and let's hear those bats crack-ing as the Miraleste Varsity Girl's softball "swings" into action. Coming off a winning season the team met up with high expectations and had no problem meeting these. The girls had a new head coach, as John Matull took over from Lloyd Buettgenbach. He moved down to the J.V. team to form a "farm club" type system at Miraleste. Lizanne Holder was again a driving force as were Marcella Mayers and Lisa and Laura Buchanan.

It was deemed a learning experience as coach Lloyd Buettgenbach moved down from the varsity level to coach the J.V.'s; as he says, "A good varsity is impossible without a strong base from which to take it from." Much to the chagrin of the other teams, this base is now established and for years to come the softball teams from the school formally known as the small school on the hill will now be known as the softball power house from MHS.

Gymnasts Vault to Victory

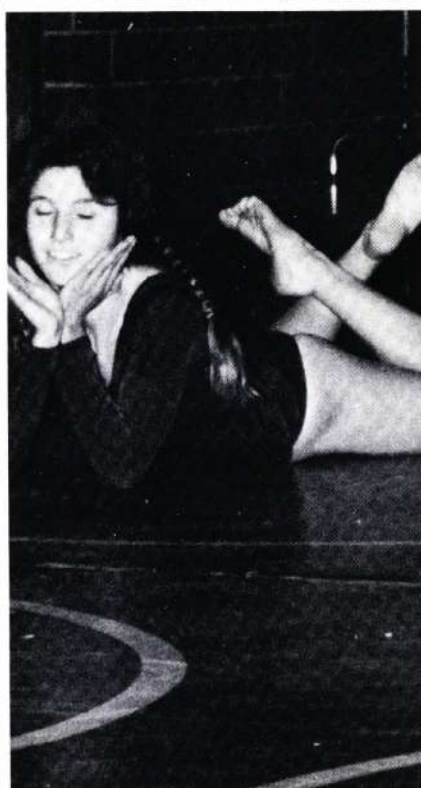

From the balance beam to the vault, from the parallel bars to the floor exercises, the gymnastics team was at it again. As the gymnasts dipped their hands into the chalk, it could be seen that the team was not to be fooled with. Junior team member Jane Schucker said of gymnastics, "It's too bad not a whole lot of people come out see the team, it can really be quite interesting ... and fun too." The team comprised mostly of underclassmen is building and will soon be a major powerhouse in the South Bay area.

WORLD

Freedom was extinguished in Poland as the nation became the hostage of its own army. Martial law was imposed and civil rights became almost non-existent as the army's one purpose was to keep the people in line. News reports reaching the west were smuggled out as Polish radio and television were tightly censored. Every private telephone was dead and the gas stations were closed to private cars. All flights into and within the country were cancelled. A 10:00 p.m. to 6:00 a.m. curfew was in effect nightly.

50,000 people were arrested for either striking or resisting arrest. The first arrested were the leaders of Solidarity including its founder, Lech Walsea. The independent labor union was crushed although government officials claimed it was only suspended. Communist Party Chief Jaruzelski announced the country would be run by a 21 member "Junta," a "Military council for the National Salvation."

Public resentment of government grew from the action against the union, whose 10 million membership represents 20% of the Polish population. From the underground, strikes and sit-ins were still called. Military force was used to break them up. Reportedly, hundreds of workers were killed in these confrontations.

Some Polish authorities said Jaruzelski's military moves were provoked by pressure from the Soviet Union, and many Western officials agreed. The United States imposed economic sanctions in response to the Polish crisis.

Leaders of Solidarity confer to propose a compromise to the Martial Law situation.

STATE

At Diablo canyon September's protesting finally paid off, and the Nuclear Regulatory committee closed the plant indefinitely until it could be proved that it was well enough constructed to withstand a severe earthquake.

SPORTS

The Rams finished their worst season in 16 years with a 6-10 showing. Despite this poor record, owner Georgia Frontiere made no front office or coaching changes. Playoff bound teams were Dallas, Philadelphia, N.Y. Giants, Tampa Bay, and San Francisco from the N.F.C., and Miami, Buffalo, N.Y. Jets, Cincinnati and San Diego in the A.F.C. Biggest disappointments were last year's champion Oakland, Atlanta and the L.A. "Shams."

The Lakers shot to the top of the west with a .750 winning percentage with the starting line-up of Jamaal Wilkes, Mitch Kupcheck, Kareem Abdul-Jabbar, Magic Johnson, and Norm Nixon. The latter three were all named to the West's All-Star team. The Kings named a new coach, Don Perry, after the team sank to the third worst record in the N.H.L. Wayne Gretzky, The Edmonton 22 year old wonder child broke the ancient goal of 40 goals in 40 games, with an incredible performance of 50 goals in 39 games.

A series of movies in time for the Christmas holidays premiered. "On Golden Pond," with Henry and Jane Fonda and Katherine Hepburn was predicted to be a classic even before opening. It played to sold-out crowds in Westwood. "Reds" was a lengthy feature about a few individual's effects on the Russian Revolution. It had an outstanding cast including Jack Nicholson, Warren Beatty. John Belushi and Dan Acroyd were at it again with their new picture "Neighbors," a middle class neighborhood take-off. Horror fans delighted to the scary antics of "Ghost Story" with Fred Astaire.

The Rolling Stones and Rod Stewart were featured in live television concerts. Devo, Frank, Zappa, Earth Wind and Fire, Rod Stewart, George Thorongood and Stevie Nicks made southland appearances. The top pop songs were Queen and David Bowie's "Under Pressure," "Heart Like A Wheel," by Steve Miller, "Harden my Heart" by Quarterflash. Rod Stewart's, "Young Turks," was also a hit. Billboard Magazine's top 10 selling L.P.'s of 1981 were the following:

- 1) "High Infidelity" R.E.O. Speedwagon
- 2) "Paradise Theatre" Styx
- 3) "Arc of Diver" Steve Winwood
- 4) "Moving Pictures" Rush
- 5) "Face Values" Phil Collins
- 6) "Double Fantasy" John Lennon & Yoko Ono
- 7) "Long Distance Voyager" Moody Blues
- 8) "Zenyatta Mondatta" The Police
- 9) "Hard Promises" Tom Petty
- 10) "Don't Say No" Billy Squier

Three top fads of 1981 were the popular Rubik's Cube puzzle, (which became a snap to some after a book of its solution was printed), the rise of video games, replacing older pinball machines, and the Sony Walkman unit, which let people plug into their music wherever they went.

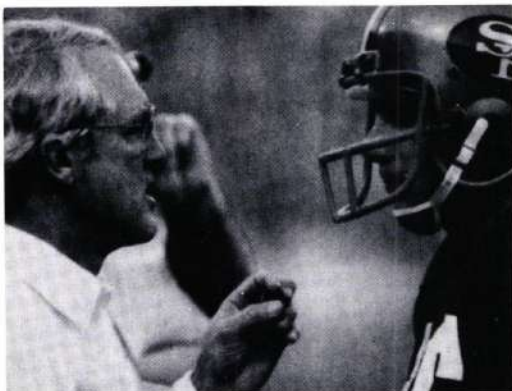

AROUND CAMPUS

The first week's activities included the opening of the fall play, "Dirty Work At the Crossroads." The audience participated in the melodrama hissing and booing to the dastardly antics of Monroe Mergatroid. On the first Friday Varsity football continued its winning ways with a 17-7 victory over Atascadero at Mira Costa. The win qualified them for the Desert Mountain conference title for the first time in the school's history. The following day was the 1981 winter formal. Sponsored by Girl's League, the Gym was decorated exquisitely with streamers dashing from the ceiling, and Christmas colors predominating. The next Friday again featured the Marauders Varsity football squad pitted against the mighty Verbum Dei team. Although Miraleste jumped to an early 13-0 lead, they tired against their opponents and were defeated 29-13. The Friday before vacation had students in a festive mood; many lunchtime Christmas parties were to be found. Over vacation many skiers ventured to the slopes for the best December skiing in years.

(Top) Elvis Costello rocked the Sports Arena on the 29th. (Middle) A favorite trend of 1981 was trying to figure out how to solve the famous Rubik's Cube. (Below) Formal pre-parties are very popular. KEY CLUB

Key Club, the original service club at Miraleste is dedicated to excellent community service. Led by new sponsors Todd Mirsky and Clagg Offutt, the club had a somewhat new look. In addition to annual projects such as helping the P.T.S.A. with the Homes Tour, Back to School Night, and Open House, new events were also featured. "Mirsky's Kids," was unique this year; it had members going to Vista Grande, (Mirsky's school) to help some students there. Caroling with Girls' Service at a hospital and visiting San Pedro schools to give Christmas gifts were some other projects. Some social events were the Girls League-Key Club progressive dinner, five club halloween party, and sponsoring of the Homecoming Dance which featured the "Twisters."

INTERACT

Interact is designed to let the community see the positive action of today's adolescent. Sponsors Art Warner and Don Griffiths along with president Tom Tournat organize the meetings and help set up service projects. Interact holds club caucuses twice a year, and one of the main questions that they ask their applicants is: "Is it beneficial to all concerned?" To the club this means that all projects should benefit everyone around. This year's Christmas function was the annual party for the parentless children in the South Bay. The highlight of the fun comes when Santa brings the kids their special Christmas present. "Seeing each smile makes my holiday even nicer." Working closely with Rotary, Interact has learned much about community service.

Being one of the four major service clubs at Miraleste High School, Girl's League strives to maintain a well-respected name. Mae Landauer, being the sponsor, is proud of the successful home's tour, and Helen Murphy had an enjoyable Christmas function to all concerned. The 1981 Winter Formal was a successful display of Girl's League's dedication to service; the gym was decorated with Christmas colors and was hardly recognizable upon entering. Girl's League extends its arm out to all girls by opening the club to all who are interested.

Making up the entire organization are girls who wish to contribute to their community and school. Heading the club for 1981-82 were sponsor Olivia La Bouff and president Karen Dethlefsen. Also working the home's tour, Girl's Service showed that they have the qualifications for a successful service club. Christmas is a time for sharing, and the club spends its time giving presents to unfortunate foster children. "Each year we get the thrill of lighting up a young child's Christmas."

EL MIRADOR

Work on the 1982 El Mirador began last summer with a week long workshop in San Diego. Many new styles and themes were discussed and developed. Producing a book of this size is an incredible amount of work, and we met the five deadlines without too many setbacks and late nights. This years staff combined experience and new ideas with a large group of responsible people; we really came together at production time. Without a supplement this year the entire year was covered in the book for the first time. Thus, it's sixteen pages longer than ever before. Also this is the first year that we had competition from Hollywood and its "Video Yearbook," for television. It still remains to be seen how well that will do. Our goals were to cover the year more in its entirety than previously, including trends, fads, news, and sports. We hope you will enjoy it and appreciate our work.

This year the Torreon had an unusually difficult time meeting its deadlines because of misplaced headlines, lost ads, books, and articles. However the staff managed to get it together and meet the dates required for publication. The paper this year had a new look with a larger size and a new title design and artistic graphics. Staffed with many new members the paper had many interesting new concepts which added to the enjoyment of the readers this year. One of the problems which plagued the paper this year was that the district insisted signing of all editorial letters. All problems considered, the Torreon showed the style of a professional newspaper throughout the entire year as this was what the staff was trying to achieve.

ALTRUIST; ALPHA BETA

Although it was a new service club on campus this year, Altruist jumped out to a big start. Altruist quickly built its funds early in the year. Dave Melendez, the president, is proud of his new club. Some of their successful projects this year were the canned food drive and the Christmas party. Altruist was quick to become a club at Miraleste High School because their member drive to sign up new members.

FORENSICS; PEP CLUB

This club is made up of talented speakers many of whom compete in California speech tournaments. Sharon Dezutti is the sponsor of the club, and each year she expresses hope that her students will go far in speech competition. Different categories of speaking are; extemporaneous speech of current events, and humorous interpretation.

Also one of the new clubs on campus this year, Computer Club is designed to get students interested in computer programming and maybe pursue a career in computers.

C.S.F.; NMSQT

The California Scholarship Federation gives high achieving students a chance to be recognized. C.S.F. is open to all students who can maintain at least 10 points in all academic courses. An A is worth 3 points; 1 point is given when a student receives a B. A C isn't worth any points. To be a student member for life, one must maintain his 10 points or more for four semesters. Colleges appreciate applicants that are members of the federation.

Dunbar, R. Ruben, A. Tulman, S. Vargas, M. Achterberg, M. Personius

The criterion for the National Honor Society is more than just in academic achievement. Students get the chance to show their leadership, character, and service to Miraleste High School. Marion Hanson, the N.H.S. advisor, and Lisa Roberts, this year's president, worked hard together for fund raisers. Money was earned by supplying concessions at different sporting events of the season. In other words, the National Honor Society gives those with special personalities a chance to stand up and be counted.

Members not in order: H. Yuja, B. Nebolon, A. Finney, A. Tulman, A. Diego, A. Hornreich, E. Kerrigan, J. Buzanis, N. Schucker, A. O'Hare, J. Bertsch, B. Rodich, J. Scherlachner, A. Olds, E. Dr. Costales has organized this group of talented Spanish speaking students. She in turn puts much of her free time for the benefit of the members. Andrew Tulman is the elected president, and he organized fund raisers. He and the cabinet keep the members informed of their specific duties. During the month of February, the society holds applications for those wishing to devote some time to the club. By becoming a member of the group, one shows his peers that he or she has engaged in at least two years of training in the Spanish language, and has maintained a high performance level in the class. On graduation day the senior members wear ribbons showing their performance in the language.

FRENCH CLUB; GERMAN CLUB

The French Club, under the direction of Elise Hanley, was again a leader in the foreign language club department. Many meetings were held this year, and many activities planned for the upcoming year. Success was evident in the end when the club as a whole participated in a multicultural event put on by the city of Rolling Hills Estates. Madame Maire commented on the club by saying, "We have had as usual, a great bunch of kids, and I see nothing but good things to come from the future grades here at Miraleste."

Row 1: K. Chickering, T. Tuens, M. Gioustremes, E. Hanley, T. Lookingland, E. Fukui. Row 2: C. Stevenson, D. McWhinnie, C. Carlson, G. Jystad, N. Trutanich, M. Boudov, M. Markert, J. Boxerman, T. Jaconi, L. Cohn, N. Gruber. Row 3: L. Morimoto, L. Masandrea, R. Boyel, K. Cobble.

The German Club, which boasted many new members again this year, showed what speaking German was all about. Many thought the club would have many problems equaling their hosting of German students last year. The German Club made up for this by hosting many new activities this year. Many new ideas were tried this year, including special study sessions to help the students with their A.P. examinations. Member Nick Szoke commented that the club showed him many new and interesting things that have to do with the speaking of the German language.

ART CLUB; GAMES CLUB

A. Tulman, F. DiSanto, A. Finney, L. Detwiller, E. Anderson, A. Basinski, G. Hummel, K. Bruce.

The Art Club, under the direction of art expert Frank Di Santo, was again a leader in school spirit by supplying art work for many of the school's activities. The club is made up of the schools most talented artists. Conducting an art sale is one of the clubs biggest projects. It is at this art sale that the aspiring young artists get to display their art for sale, many for the first time. The club encourages talented artists to join and show what they can do.

An assortment of games is what the Games Club is all about. Many people have been under the impression that the club, which was derived from the Dungeons and Dragons Club, plays only this game. The club holds meetings daily at lunch at which time an assortment of games are played. The club not only sports the playing of games, but also the teaching of games so that everyone who participates in these games will have a better understanding of the rules of the games people play.

THEATER ARTS CLUB

The Theatre Arts Club consists of members of the Miraleste drama department. They had another successful year helping to support the thespians in all of their endeavors, including the very professional acting in the fall play, "Dirty Work At the Crossroads," by Bill Johnson. The play was directed by Mark Ferrera, and was a take off on an old-fashioned melodrama with touches of 1980's humor. The club is also known for its work on the well known Miraleste High School musical in the spring.

The math club consists of many mathematical whizzes at Miraleste; it was larger than it had been in the past, and was well respected by the students and faculty alike at Miraleste. The members of the Math Club attended various different math competitions throughout the year.

INTERNATIONAL EXCHANGE CLUB

The International Exchange Club has been dedicated to the helping of the foreign students enrolled at Miraleste. The club, which is open to all Miraleste students, has parties and helps to familiarize the students to their new surroundings by taking them on various trips around the Southland. The club president Annie Diego put in many hours trying to and in most cases succeeding in, having successful activities which her club attended.

A.F.S.; Y.F.U.

Miraleste's only exchange student Nancy Gruber from Europe.

"Visiting the United States and Miraleste High School has been one of the most exciting things that has ever happened to me!" says Nancy Gruber, Miraleste's only exchange student this year. Nancy's year was highlighted by meeting new people and familiarizing herself with a new country. Nancy's biggest disappointment was when visiting Rodeo Drive in Beverly Hills; she saw no stars.

Returning from a summer's experience in a foreign country, Helen Murphy and Allycyn O'Hare, had many stories of their adventures in distant lands. For Helen, staying at a beach house on the Mediterranean in Turkey was just too much for words. Allycyn O'Hare had outstanding accommodations in Paraguay and brushed up on her Spanish to boot. Both would recommend taking a trip through the Y.F.U. program.

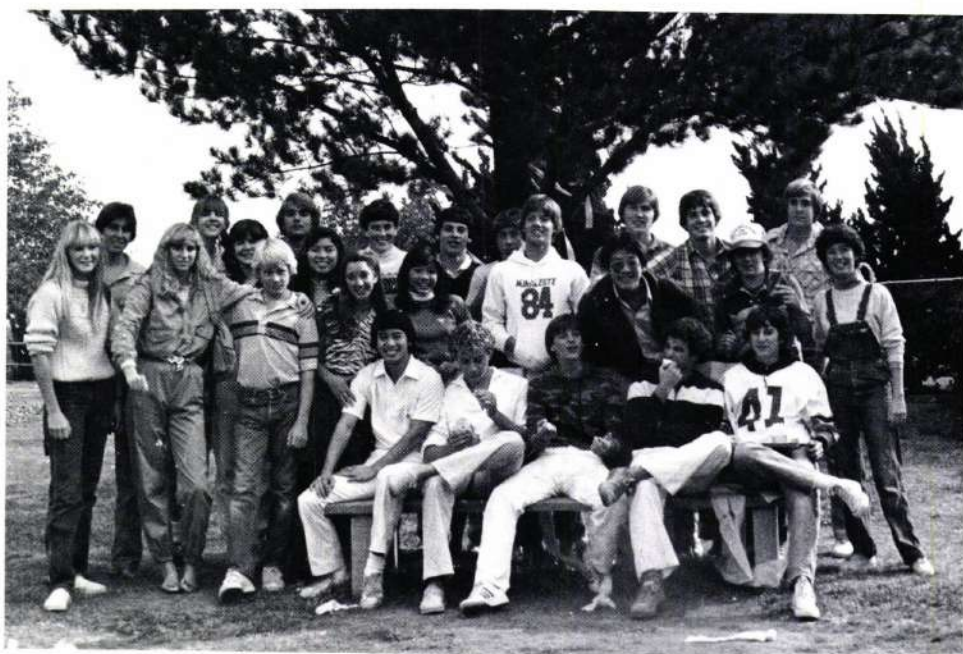

SCUBA; ANGLERS

Scuba club is made up of Miraleste, Rolling Hills, and Palos Verdes High School students. It is designed to get friends together and dive in groups. Also they learn safety features about their diving equipment. Each member has taken scuba courses and are fairly familiar with diving. This too is a new club this year and we hope that other interested divers will consider joining the group in the future.

SCROC; WORK EXPERIENCE

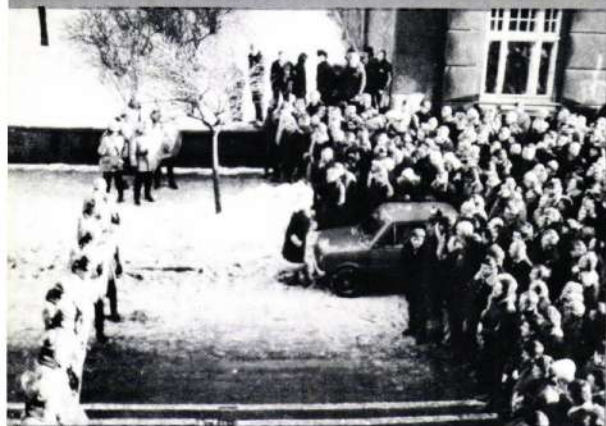

Students aboard the noon S.C.R.O.C. bus seem more than happy to pose for the photographer.

The Southern California Regional Occupation Center is designed to provide skilled training in fields that can't be given in high school. S.C.R.O.C. gives individuals a head start in occupational training. One main advantage to this type of program is that a high school student will receive graduation credit by being enrolled in a class at the center.

Mr. Joe Lomento

Many Miraleste students wish to have a job during the school year. Joe Lomento's work experience helps students maintain a job and also earn graduation credits in the process. Credit is also given to those who have volunteer jobs.

WORLD

Martial Law was resisted passively in Poland; dock workers were loading and unloading the same goods over and over, auto workers made parts that wouldn't fit, etc. Underground operations told workers to work slowly and ask stupid questions. As a result, 78 detention camps were set up throughout the nation for those arrested for those actions. Posters reading "Help the forces of law and order, combat anarchy and lawlessness" were torn down. Martial Law was not lifted since the resistance had not ended. The government urged workers to renounce their association with Solidarity. All of its leaders were thrown in jail for crimes of illegally provoking riots and strikes. With U.S. sanctions in effect, the Polish government had an excuse to raise food prices further. In some cases the food rose 400% in order to slow demands. Polish leaders felt no public threat could occur over the prices since Martial Law was still in effect.

NATION

The country plummeted into a recession. Although the inflation rate was dropped to 8% from 16% a year ago, unemployment was up to 9% nationally. The Pacific Northwest was especially hard-hit where in some logging areas the jobless were up to 25%. Interest rates did not drop; the prime rate remained at 17%, so home and car sales stayed down. The American auto industry made fewer units in any January since 1949, and sales were down 39% from January '81. Reagan urged the country to stick with his economic plans estimating a stronger America when the recession ends. He unveiled his "New Federalism" plan at the State of the Union which called for more money and power to be turned over to the states. The goal was to have spending more carefully monitored.

Paul Lynde, the famous comedian and long-time center square on "Hollywood Squares" died of a heart attack. In musicals for most of the early part of his career, he expressed that the center square became an inescapable prison to him in his later years.

A cold front swept the nation. In Florida, billions were lost in citrus crops due to below-freezing weather.

In Chicago the heat from sewers engulfed the city in orange clouds.

In the nation's capitol, an Air Florida 737 crashed into the Potomac River, killing 78. The flight was apparently slowed on takeoff as ice weighted down its wings.

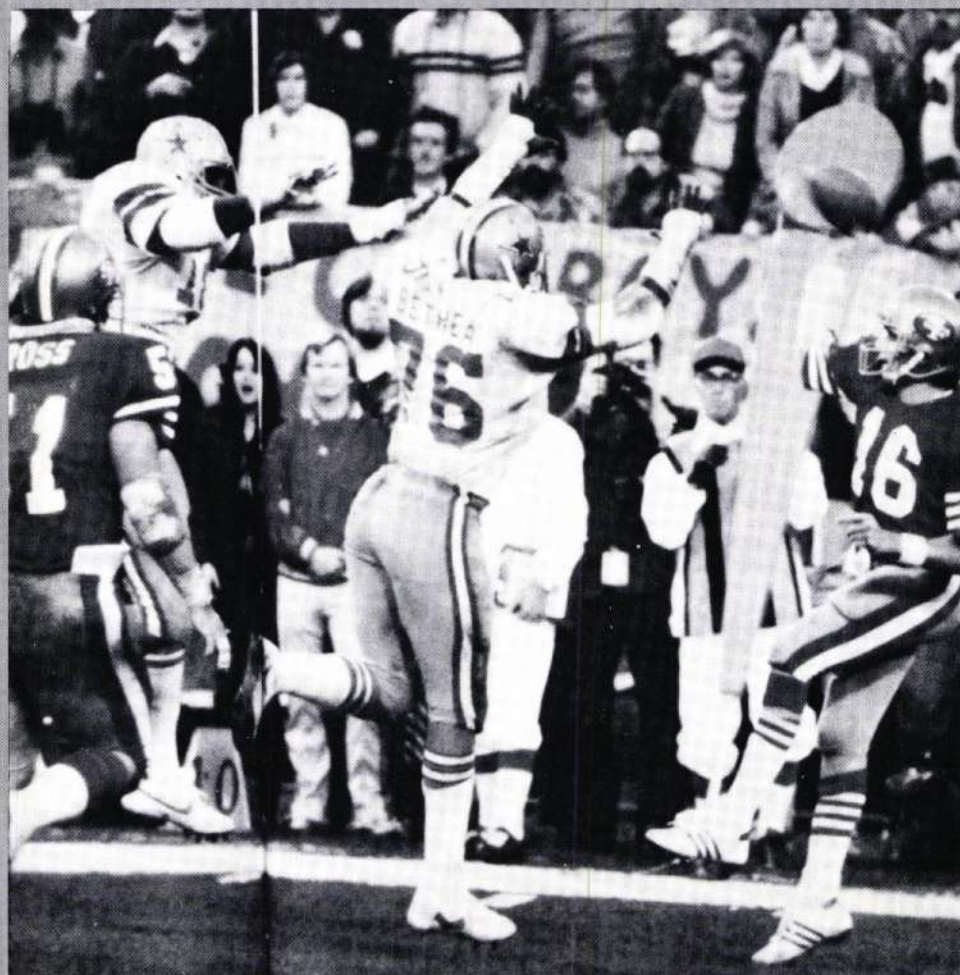

STATE

Northern California was devastated by severe rain. 500 homes and businesses were destroyed by rains and mudslides. In some areas over a foot fell in less than 32 hours. Highway 101 in Marin County was made impassable by the mud, which forced the Golden Gate Bridge to close for only the third time since opening in 1937. Many commuters were stranded in the city for a week,

SPORTS

The Clemson Tigers were awarded a National College Football Championship after upsetting Nebraska in the Orange Bowl 22-15. Washington defeated surprise Big 10 champion Iowa in the Rose Bowl, Texas dumped Alabama in the Cotton Bowl, Georgia defeated Pittsburgh in the Sugar Bowl, and in the Fiesta Bowl Penn. State whipped USC. College Football had 6 number one teams before Clemson finally stayed on top: Michigan, Notre Dame, USC, Texas, Penn State, and Pittsburgh.

Joe Montana completes a dramatic pass to Dwight Clark for the touchdown that qualified the 49ers for their first Super Bowl.

Two cinderella teams qualified for Super Bowl XVI in Detroit. San Francisco defeated Dallas for the N.F.C. crown on an exciting last minute drive, 28-27. For the A.F.C. title San Diego was frozen out of Cincinnati's -59 degree temperatures, 27-7.

Super Bowl XVI was a game of halves, with the first going to the 49ers. Cincinnati made it close in the second, but they fell short in 26-21 defeat. San Francisco represented a turn-around from 6-10 the year before, and their championship put the city into pandemonium.

Visiting the Southland were Foreigner, Greg Lake, Molly Hatchet, Henry Paul Band, Willie Nelson, Ozzy Osbourne. The tops in pops were Stevie Nick's "Leather and Lace," "Centerfold" from the J. Geils Band, The Car's "Shake it Up," and Lindsey Buckingham's "Trouble."

"Evita," the play depicting the life of Argentinian heroine Eva Peron closed at the Shubert after a successful two-year run in L.A.

AROUND CAMPUS

Varsity basketball dominated the January activities calendar. The team waltzed through league play finishing 10-1 and co-champions of Pioneer League. Winter Sports, Boys' Soccer, Girls' Soccer, Wrestling, Girls' Basketball, and Frosh Soph, and JV Boys' Basketball were all in the middle of their seasons.

Girls' Service and Interact had a progressive dinner with the theme "Games People Play." Tickets were $15 for catered food and the popular band LAX. The following week was the freshman class-sponsored dance with music by Surge. Finals week closed out January with three minimum days.

With scattered showers throughout the month, skiing was very good. Pictured atop chair 19 at Mammoth are Stacey Brannen, Lisa Mangiamelli, Dave Thompson, Jamie Murphy, Tom Tournot, Cathy Sedgewick, and Chris Ridout.

Dear Amy, Shana, Cordee, Rafael, Jorge, Matt, John, & Todd,
I must say that the two years that we spent together were quite an experience for me. We had our good times as well as our bad, but in the end our friendships had prospered greatly. As you go off into the world I will always remember how crazy we all were, or you all were. Until we meet otra vez — Adios Amigos,

When the Altruist Service Club was formed, it was said that it could never get off the ground. Yet the club did survive, and because of the determination and dedication of its members has had a truly fine first year. Every club member can be proud of his or her part in helping the hundreds of less fortunate that we served. Our thanks is written in the smiles of people like the little boy. Our goal of building a club truly dedicated to the service of others and open to all students of Miraleste has been reached. We have memories of hard work and good times, that I hope you will never forget. Though I can't mention everybody, special recognition should go to Andrew, Hunt, Rich, Doug, Kelly, Ann and the Dave's, for outstanding service. It was a challenging year and I thank you for the privilege of being your president. David Melendez

Let us go on
Remembering the friendships
We shared each day and the hard times we tackled together.

Let us go on Reliving the past always in our thoughts and keep a close eye on the obstacles that may pass our way.

Let us go on Thinking of those that will follow
and leaving them
the big bag of memories that will be with us forever.

Jill Staley

The feeling . . .
Of time rushing past
So quickly — too quickly!
Many friends will soon leave
To go out on their own.

Girls' Service Club has been a special part of our high school years at Miraleste.
We've all enjoyed what it has brought us.
Let us never forget the friendships we've shared.

We might wish that we could relive some of our experiences
That can never come again.
It's a sad yet a happy thought to realize that this part of our lives is now in our past.
We must now move on and go our separate ways.

Yet we will never forget the happiness we've had.

For all of those who we leave behind,
We hope that you can experience and treasure all of the happiness that we have shared.

Mrs. Joyce Baziw
Miraleste High School Nurse

Mrs. Joyce Baziw passed away on October 29, 1981, from cancer. Memorial services were held at Wayfare's Chapel on November 2, 1981. She will be remembered as a person of incredible strength. "She will be remembered not only for her kindness, generosity, and friendship, but also for her spirit of life. There was always a smile on her face, and she never complained. She had a special will to live, and was a very special woman," remarked Karen Darling on her death. A tree was planted near the portables in her name at the request of her husband.

Poland remained under Martial Law, and many of our European allies refused to cooperate in imposing sanctions against the Soviet Union. The U.S. went through with it anyway.

Americans' concern grew over our continued interest in El Salvador's civil war. The U.S. poured millions into the country to attempt to prevent the present Duarte Government from falling. The government has a dismal human rights record, but Secretary of State Haig felt that if Soviet-backed Cuba took control it would have a domino-effect in Central America. El Salvador has promised to redesign its constitution in April, which the U.S. felt would be a big step in further democratic rule. Congressmen hinted that Haig supported making troop commitments to the country. Press Secretary Larry Speakes answered the rumors, "The President has no intention to send troops anywhere... at the moment." Meanwhile, mandatory draft registration continued in the U.S.

NATION

The economy dominated domestic news. Reagan went on the road campaigning to get his 1983 budget passed. His proposed budget had a record $91.5 billion deficit. The president met opposition throughout Washington, even Republicans were reluctant to vote for it. The country protested the cuts in social programs coupled with massive defense buildups (13.2% increased annual spending). Still, experts predicted the country to slowly emerge from its recession with prices staying generally low afterwards.

Reagan told his critics to "put up or shut up," and asked them for better proposals. In actuality, his social cuts have really only slowed spending, not decreased it. Surveys showed that even after his cuts, spending has actually increased in Social Security, Medicare, Medicaid, and Food Stamps. Only in Aid to Needy Families with Dependent Children has spending significantly decreased.

Harvard University was the first to announce its 1982-83 tuition at over $12,000. Several other Eastern universities followed suit. '82-'83 is the first year most private schools will have to refuse students on the basis of financial aid. Federal budget-cuts are the cause; student loans were cut 25%, so fewer people qualify.

The CBS Nightly News climbed back to the top in the competitive network news industry. Dan Rather, who replaced popular Walter Cronkite a year ago, attributed much of the new success to wearing a V-neck sweater for the broadcasts. "God knows what would happen if you put a ring in your nose," was his comment.

SPORTS

The Dodgers made off-season headlines by trading second baseman Davey Lopes to Oakland. Lopes was the starting second baseman for nine years, and by leaving he broke up the "inseparable infield" of Garvey, Lopes, Russell, and Cey. They had all been the starters for a record nine straight years.

Fernando Valenzuela held out of spring training in a contract dispute. Valenzuela asked for a reported $1.4 million a year; the Dodgers offered him $350,000. Manager Tom Lasorda remarked, "The first thing Fernando wants is Texas back," but Valenzuela's agent Tony DeMarco corrected him, saying, "The first thing he wants is California back."

The Angels signed aging Yankee outfielder Reggie Jackson to a four year contract. He batted .216 in New York last year, and at 36 insisted he could still play. Season ticket sales at the Big A more than doubled three weeks after the signing.

Despite a mid-month slump, the Lakers remained atop their division with a 41-17 record at month's end. The Kings didn't fair as well. Coach Perry was suspended after he sent a player to the minor leagues because he wouldn't get involved in a fight. The team remained in fourth place.

CBS anchorman Dan Rather shows off his V-neck sweater that got him back to the top of the ratings.

ENTERTAINMENT

Some of the top pop songs were "867-5309/Jenny" by Tommy Tutone and "I Love Rock 'n Roll" by Joan Jett. "Pac-Man Fever" was a song about the year's most popular video game. Making Southland appearances were The Police and Oingo Boingo, Dan Fogelburg, AC/DC, and the Grateful Dead. L.A. bands continued to provide weekend entertainment at the local clubs. Some of the favorites of the year included Suburban Lawns, Missing Persons, Circle Jerks, X, The Plimsouls, The Blast-ers, The Humans, 20/20, The Bus-boys, and the Waitresses.

LOCAL/AROUND CAMPUS

The district made the unpopular decision to close two more elementary schools, bringing the total to six. Miraleste and Valmonte were the latest victims. Miraleste is the oldest on the hill, built in 1929.

Varsity Basketball won a Pioneer League co-championship, but lost in first round C.I.F. to Duarte. Boy's Soccer and Girl's Basketball also qualified: soccer lost in first round and B-Ball in second. The last weekend featured the successful Soph-Doll Dance on Friday, and Interact-G.L.C.'s Hoe-Down on the following night.

Actor-Comedian John Belushi was found dead in a Hollywood hotel from a drug overdose.

WORLD

In 1972, a book was published titled The Jupiter Effect. It predicted all the planets in our solar system to be aligned in a straight line with earth being on the opposite side of the sun. The significance was that as a result, many earthquakes, spontaneous volcano eruptions, and even the alteration of the poles was to happen. The doomsday was set at March 10, 1982. When the day rolled around, some were worried, but fears were subsided when it was released that the alignment was at an angle; thus the California coastline stayed above water and another doomsday prediction passed without results. The phenomenon could not be seen in the sky of Southern California due to low clouds and rain.

Martial Law continued in Poland with no official word about when it would end. U.S. money continued to be poured into El Salvador, especially after it was discovered that Nicaragua was operating its military with support from leftist forces.

NATION

Actor-comedian John Belushi was found dead in a North Hollywood hotel from an overdose of heroin and cocaine. The 33 year old star of such shows as "Animal House" and "Saturday Night Live" had suffered from drug side-effects and obesity prior to his death.

Atlantic Richfield made a historic decision by cancelling its credit program and gas charge card. The company's vow was to lower the price of its gas after the April 15th expiration date. The other major gas companies vowed to seek the former Arco card holders rather than follow in the company's path. Arco dealers expressed concern because most of their loyal customers said they would change companies instead of paying cash.

Arco was the first major petroleum company to eliminate its credit program; After the April 15 expiration date only cash would be accepted for its gas.

The space shuttle Colombia made its third journey into space on the 22nd. Only 128 days after its last journey, it represented the first time a craft had been re-used so rapidly. Early predictions were to have the craft take only 14 days between take-offs, but scientists now predict the earliest possible turn-around is 51 day.

A medical breakthrough enabled mothers who had Caesarean births to have normal births with future children. In other medical news, the United State's first test-tube baby had its one-year physical and was found in perfect condition.

SPORTS

The Lakers had another good month remaining in first place in the west. The Kings peaked at the end of the month, just in time for the play-offs. They qualified despite an overall record of almost 43 games under 500. Fernando Valenzuela held the original offer from the Dodgers of $350,000. That made him the highest payed second year player ever. The college basketball final four in New Orleans proved to have no supprises. The finalists were North Carolina, Houston, Georgetown, and Louisville.

ARCO

Edmonton hockey sensation Wayne Gretzky scored 79 goals to break the single season record — and he still had 16 games left to play.

ENTERTAINMENT

Making appearances in Los Angeles were the Cars, Nick Lowe, ZZ Top, J. Geils Band, U-2, Rod Stewart, and the B-52's. Top pop selections included "Take Off" from SCTV funnyman Doug and Bob McKenzie, "I Can't Go For That," from Hall and Oates, the J. Geils Band's "Freeze Frame," and Loverboy's "Workin for the Weekend."

A new album from the Beatles was released; it contained songs found previously only on bootlegs. Most were recorded in the early 60's.

Television shows topping the rating's chart proved CBS still to be the king of the networks.

The spring brought a collection of movies to delight theater-goers. "Missing" was the story of U.S. intervention in a military take-over in Chile; "Evil Under the Sun" was the latest Agatha Christie whodunit; and "Shoot the Moon" was a hit starring Diane Keaton. The effects in "Great White" had audiences laughing across the country, but the new $4.50 nighttime general admission charges was met with a more negative response.

AROUND CAMPUS/LOCAL

The P.V. School Board O.K.'d Rolling Hills High's underground newspaper, The Observer, after its editors threatened the district with a law suit.

The students were represented by the American Civil Liberties Union; a compromise that was reached was for all articles to be signed.

"Damn Yankees" was the highlight of the March activities calendar. The musical featured a large cast and played over two weekends to enthusiastic audiences. The senior-class sponsored sweetheart dance was held prior to the musical, and the crowds were down due to stricter rules (see page 27.) The dance was enjoyed by those in attendance. Spring sports, Baseball, Volleyball, Track, Swimming, Boys' Tennis, Softball, Gymnastics, and Golf all entered league play.

Chris Ridout talks to his manager Greg Mohr in the spring musical "Damn Yankees." This was the third consecutive year Ridout had the lead.

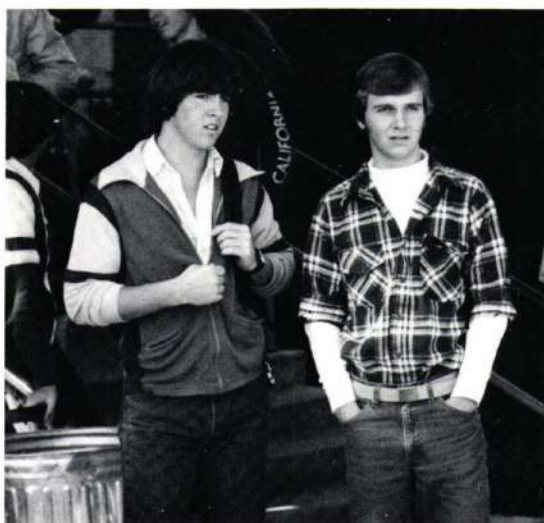

The end of a year can be seen as the end of a poker game. The seniors are ready to be dealt out, and are collecting their winnings from winning hands. They are readying themselves for new games of life in college, vocational schools, the working world, or the military. For the juniors, sophomores, and freshmen, each will face the coming game and coming year more securely using the experience they learned from this year. With seniors departing, the class of '86 can be heard in the background saying, "Deal me in."
